This is a generalize itinerary. Itinerary may change based on weather or availability.

After breakfast we'll make our way down to Papallacta where we'll explore the Coca-Cayambe national park right in the heart of the transition between high altitude paramo and cloud forest. After relaxing in the hot springs for an evening, we'll explore the Antisana national park. Then it's back to the city where we'll be whisked away to 14,000ft atop the Pichincha volcano before we learn about Quito's people past and present. Finally, we'll end the evening exploring golden churches and hidden corridors in the historic district. Just outside the city we'll explore some of the unique ecosystems found close to the city before making our way to Otavalo. We'll explore the shimmering volcanic lakes, Otavalo's unique history, and it's artisans and their works that make this place so unique.
